Sometimes it can be a real burden to live in a family that has a lot of secrets. At least that is 16-year-old Gwendolyn's opinion – until that day when she suddenly finds herself in London at the turn of the last century. That is when it dawns on her that she happens to be her family's greatest secret. But what doesn't dawn on her is the fact that you should refrain from falling in love when you're stuck in between two time zones... Because that can make the matter even more complicated!

A fox who mustn't live, a boy who is being hunted and a love which will save them both

This year, Lia's time on the family's country estate is no longer the same as before – because of Finn, the gamekeeper's nephew. Lia cannot tear herself away from his mysterious personality, and she falls head over heels in love with him. When he returns her feelings, her summer seems perfect. But what is the true nature of this boy who plays ball with a wild fox and reads poems to it. Soon the shadows of the past descend on the wilderness of Badfearna. They bring to light certain aspects of Finn's past that leave no doubt: a girl like Lia has no place in his life. Can one run away from love – or from oneself?

- All about deeply wounded emotions and the healing powers of Nature.
- Told with passion and superbly researched – as if the reader is on an imaginary holiday in the Scottish Highlands.
- Deals with important current themes: respect for Nature, social inequality, interest in foreign cultures.
- Antje Babendererde's books have sold a total of 550,000 copies.

Her life is one big lie. Because the truth will put everyone she loves in mortal danger

A new form of disease has turned most humans into pointlessly aggressive monsters, resulting in the almost total destruction of the world. The 18-year-old Kara has also been infected and is now living in an isolation unit. However, a cunning trick enables her to pronounce herself cured and to return home. But the disease is still dormant in her and could flare up at any moment. This makes her a danger not only to herself but also to her family, friends – and Adrian, to whom against all reason she finds herself increasingly attracted to.

- Dystopian thought experiments: A panorama of human relations, observed with precision and psychological authenticity.
- A strong and independently minded heroine faced with an existential decision.
- Themes that are important in our time: social division, increasing aggression, isolation.
- Charlotte Richter's books have sold a total of 15,000 copies.

Who am I, who do I want to be and what do others see in me?

Everything is going wrong in Paul's life. He's in love with a girl he can't have, he's the frontman of a band all of whom are better singers than he is, and every conversation with his father ends in a shouting match. And when he learns that he is not his mother's biological son, his life seems to have reached a peak of unwanted complexity. However, Paul does not yet know what the search for his real mother will reveal.

- An intense tale of identity, diversity and courage.
- A many-layered coming-of-age novel that deals with the question of what we need to come to terms with ourselves.
- A powerful novel about the existential fears of adolescents written by multi-award-winning author Tania Witte.

It's only a few sentences in a manuscript – but there is something about them that disturbs 17-year-old Vita. Soon after that she starts on a trip across Europe. When she and her friends arrive in Italy, they accidentally find themselves in Viagello, a picturesque village mentioned in this manuscript.

Vita is strangely attracted to the village and the tightrope artist Luca, whom she meets there. He will guide her on a journey into her memories about something that happened in Viagello – in that longest night of all...

At the end of the 19th century in a small town on the Rhine River, an innocent family is deprived of their existence because of unfounded hate and prejudices. The town is roused from its everyday routine – a child has been murdered. As the criminal is not immediately found, a few mean-spirited people point the finger of suspicion at the Jewish livestock dealer Waldhoff. A veritable witch hunt begins, where even the good-willed people watch in silence in their cowardice. Only a half-grown boy dares to swim against the stream; he clings to his unshakable friendship with the son of the accused.

Emilia has a list of special dreams: she wants to learn to play the piano, go to a concert, or simply know how the rain sounds. Behind each of these points, however, is a big challenge, because Emilia is almost deaf. That coincidence makes her encounter Nick, seems like a bad joke to her, because the boy with the crooked grin shows much more interest in parties than in music. But while Emilia pursues her dreams, the two meet again and again - and it seems that both Nick's loud and Emilia's silent world are not so far apart ...

Kerstin Gier's Timeless Love Trilogy has become a true phenomenon. The author managed to write herself into the hearts of her female readers, young and old alike, in no time. Hundreds of thousands of fans followed Gideon and Gwendolyn's outrageous adventures throughout the centuries. Week after week Smaragdgrün (Emerald Green) as well as Rubinrot (Ruby Red) and Saphirblau (Sapphire Blue) sell in numbers that usually make up the whole published lot. All three were on SPIEGEL Bestseller List for months. Our competitors are emerald green with envy!

The Timeless Love Trilogy is thrilling, funny and sooo romantic at the same time. One day, fifteen-year-old Gwen finds out that she has a time travel gene and jumps back unexpectedly in time. And she finds out that she isn't the only time traveller; there is actually a whole secret society in London. And then she finds out that one of the time travellers is very attractive and cute: Gideon. But falling in love isn't that easy when you jump back and forth in time and have to fulfil a dangerous mission in the 18th century.

At her new boarding school, Katrina must do two things: find some friends, and go riding. But both are out of the question. She has sworn never to sit in the saddle again, and she is simply not ready to make new friends. Not after everything that has happened. Even when she meets Raven, the untamed palomino who refuses to obey any command, Katrina abides by her decision. All the same, she wants to be with him, because Raven gives her back something she thought she had lost forever: the feeling of freedom and of being truly alive. But Raven is not the only influence that gradually brings Katrina out of her melancholy. There is also Henry. This boy presents more of a challenge to her than anyone else, and he won't give up trying to find her secret.

His world is that of the Royals – full of scandals and secrets. Falling in love with him was never part of her plan. Their paths cross at the royal stud farm...

Greta just wants to get away: away from her school and away from the friends who have so endlessly disappointed her. The holiday job at the royal stud farm comes at just the right time for her. She might not have any interest in horses – and even less in princes and princesses – but the royal family's palace still makes her heart beat faster. But on the very first day she quarrels with Edward, the horse trainer. He guesses that she is hiding a secret and wants to do whatever it takes to bring it out in the open. When, shortly afterwards, Prince Tristan appears at the stud farm, Greta's life is completely turned upside down.
